BOOSTERS LIKE RUSHVILLE WAY

Cincinnati Men Are Pleased With
Hearty and Unfeigned Reception
Given Them Here.

THEY COME AND GO IN AN HOUR

Chamber of Commerce Membership
Escorts Visitors and Large
Crowd Hears Speeches.

The Cincinnati boosters came and went this morning within an hour, but the impression that they are jolly, good fellows, which they left here, will remain for a much longer time. The flow of wit and good fellowship from the speeches of the visitors as well as the Rushville speakers keep the crowd of several hundred people gathered at the north steps of the court house in good humor.

Through requests from the Chamber of Commerce, the city schools were dismissed for the hour and the pupils helped to enliven the occasion. The Chamber of Commerce membership turned out in large numbers and escorted the visitors to and from the train. On the return trip to the train, the whole crowd joined in the procession and sent their well wishes with the happy boosters.

John C. Weber's prize band of Cincinnati played several selections. This attracted a great many people. There were only twenty pieces with the band, but it lived up its reputation of being one of the best musical organizations in the United States. Of course, when the band appears at the chautauqua here in August, it will be greatly augmented. The whole band could not be carried on this trip.

The boosters made a fine appearance, all carrying white umbrellas with the inscription, "Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce." The procession, headed by the Rushville police force and Chamber of Commerce members, and followed by the band and the visitors, marched around the public square to the north entrance of the court house where the crowd gathered on the steps and in the streets.

Mayor C. L. Bebout called the meeting to order and Anthony Schrichte one of the speakers for the Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly of Rushville and Rush county. He informed the visitors that this was primarily a farming district, "the richest agricultural district in the state." He also expressed the good will of the community for the Cincinnati crowd and told them of the desire of Rushville and Rush county to get more intimately acquainted with Cincinnati through the extension of the I. & C. to Cincinnati from here.

Samuel L. Trabue praised Rushville and Rush county and spoke of the good feeling that exists between "one of the best cities in the middle-west" and this city. He said Rushville had the best of good wishes for Cincinnati and was glad to give its citizens a hearty welcome here.

Will M. Sparks, president of the Chamber of Commerce, declared that there may be better counties than Rush county, but no one here had ever seen them. Furthermore, he said, there may be finer cities than Rushville, but no one here had ever admitted it. President Sparks assured the visitors that we of Rushville are very proud of our home and that we patronize our own merchants when we want anything. He expressed the heartiest good will of the

JOHN W. PALMER EXPIRES

Expires at Home Here After Brief Illness.

John W. Palmer, 59 years old, died this morning at eight-thirty o'clock at his home in West Eleventh street. Mr. Palmer had been ill only since last Friday when he suffered an attack of the heart. For the past few days he had been in a serious condition and death was expected. Mr. Palmer was a brother-in-law of C. L. Bates who died last week. Mr. Palmer is survived by his widow and three children. The remains will be taken to Georgetown, Ky., Saturday, leaving here on the early C. H. & D. train. The services will be held there.

FROST LAST NIGHT DID NO DAMAGE HERE

Fruit Growers and Gardeners say
Heavy Fall was Apparent, but
That it Was Not Killing One.

TEMPERATURE NEAR FREEZE

A heavy frost fell last night, but the general impression prevails among fruit growers and truck patch gardeners, that it was not a killing frost. The first thing this morning that people, who are growing a garden and take some pride in their efforts "to get close to nature," did was to examine the garden. They found the plants covered with a white coating of something which the unsophisticated thought looked like fall of snow, but which the experienced gardener knew was a frost. The experienced eye soon found that the frost did no damage.

If the weather man's prediction may be quoted, this unseasonable weather will not continue longer. The forecast is for fair and warmer weather. The temperature rose gradually throughout the day from the near-freezing point that it reached this morning.

PAYS FINE AFTER HE RACES A TEAM

Walter May Pleads Guilty to Public
Intoxication Charge After Driving Cab to Connersville.

STAGED "BEN HUR" STUNT

Walter May, employed at the Hiner livery stable, pleaded guilty to the charge of public intoxication this morning before Mayor Bebout and was fined one dollar and costs, which was paid. May, while intoxicated last evening drove a team of horses hitched to a cab, through the business district on the run. A large crowd gathered to watch the excitement. May had been to a funeral in Connersville and while there took on too much booze. After that he got the idea of staging the "Ben Hur" stunt.

He raced the team the entire length of second street and it was expected that the horses would fall almost any moment on the brick street. The team was stopped near the corner of First and Main and when May got off the cab he turned and ran as though a regiment of soldiers was chasing him.

The average pay of chorus girls is $450 for the season.

SCHOOL GIRL IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Irene, Only Daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Columbus Glore, Struck by
Big Four Passenger.

WAS WALKING ALONG TRACK

Became Confused When Flagman
Called to her and Dashed Directly
in Path of Train

Irene, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Glore, was instantly killed this morning at eight o'clock by the Big Four south-bound passenger train, number 1, which is due in this city at 8:03. The accident took place at the Ninth street crossing.

The little girl was on her way to school and was coming down the railroad. Cicero Newhouse, the watchman, called to her and she seemed to be frightened. Mr. Newhouse supposed that she heard him and then saw her dart from behind the flag house onto the railroad. The train was exceeding the speed limit according to witnesses, and did not stop until it reached the Seventh street crossing, two blocks distant. No blame is placed on Mr. Newhouse as he was several feet from the girl and could not have reached her in time.

Irene was said to be in a hurry to reach school as she thought she would be late. Mr. and Mrs. Glore live on West Tenth street and he is employed as a lumberman. Both Mr. and Mrs. Glore were present soon after the accident and were greatly shocked.

Just what part of the engine hit the girl is not definitely known, but it is supposed by railroad officials that the engine's pilot beam struck her. She was hurled from the track on the sidewalk and the wheels did not pass over her body. A dent the size of an egg was made in her temple over her left eye, crushing her skull.

The little girl was seven years of age and was in the second grade of school at the Jackson building. Miss Belle Gregg, her teacher, remarked this morning that she was one of her most brilliant pupils.

PREPARES FOR THE SALTILLO ASSAULT

General Villa Sends Congratulations

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Juarez, Mexico, May 14.—"My congratulations to General Gonzales. We meet soon in Mexico City."

General Villa sent this brief message to Rebel headquarters here today in response to a message sent at midnight telling of the capture of Tampico. Villa is gathering his troops for an assault on Saltillo where 12,000 Federals are encamped.

"One more last stand" of the Federals is expected before the fighting begins at the doors of the Mexican palace.

The wooden roof of Westminster hall, in London, was recently repaired for the first time in five hundred years.

PROPOSED THAT FAIR BE MOVED

New Industries Committee of Chamber of Commerce Hears Arguments For Change in Location.

WANTED AT RIVERSIDE PARK

Fact That it Would be Closer to City
and Track is Better Advanced
—Other Business.

A profitable meeting of the new industries committee of the Chamber of Commerce was held in C. of C. headquarters last night and the chief topic of discussion was the proposed removal of the Rush county fair from the fair grounds east of the city to Riverside park just across the mill race south of the city.

J. Q. Thomas, secretary of the fair association, discussed with the committee the possibility of such a change and a committee was appointed to confer with the Rush County Fair association in regard to the innovation. Members of the committee and others who have had the suggestion presented to them in the last few days are very hopeful that it will be possible to make the change because it will be beneficial to every one concerned.

Most arguments before the committee last night favored the change. Many reasons were advanced. The chief one was the advantage that would be gained by the use of the excellent mile track at Riverside park, which is considered one of the best tracks in Indiana. The race track at the fair grounds has been in such condition for several years that trainers will not race their horses here. The result has been that it was impossible to bring good horses here and make the races up to the standard they were years ago.

The track was spoiled when it was moved a few years ago to allow the I. & C. traction line a roadway. If the track had been left as it was, it would not have been damaged, but the turns were shortened. Horsesmen fear their horses may be hurt in making the turns. As a result they slow down and this reduces the time of the miles.

The proximity of Riverside park to the city of Rushville was another of the very potent advantages that was pointed out. Farmers and others attending the fair would not be at the inconvenience of driving over a dusty road or riding a car to the grounds.

The argument is also advanced that night fair could be held at Riverside park, but that it is doubtful whether a night fair could be staged at the present county fair ground. It has been considered, but always held unlikely because of the great distance to the ground the great expense incident to lighting the grounds. It is shown that Riverside park could be lighted very easily from the city current.

It was pointed out at the committee meeting that W. A. Jones, who owns Riverside park is very anxious that the fair be located there and that arrangements could be made easily to use the ground. He is anxious, it was shown, to bring horse trainers here to increase the revenue from the ground.

The new industries committee is working especially hard to secure training stables for the many horses which would be here, once the stables were built. The committee believes that the race horse business is the best industry Rush county ever had. It was at a high tide once upon a time, but has been allowed to dorp

President Wilson Names Him For Milroy Postoffice.

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 14.—President Wilson this afternoon nominated James R. Sage for postmaster at Milroy, Ind. His name will go before the senate and there is little doubt but that Mr. Sage will receive the postmastership.

James R. Sage, who will be the next postmaster at Milroy, is a young man and is well known there. His appointment came as no surprise as it was generally conceded that he would get the place.

lis, is Accused of Accepting

MAY RECOGNIZE MEXICAN REBELS

This Country Expects Demand From
Carranza Any Day Following
Fall of Tampico Last Night.

CAN'T FIGHT WITHOUT ARMS

Admiral Mayo Given Permission to
Enter Panuco River to Aid
Wounded And Assist Oil Men.

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 14.—Admiral Mayo was empowered today by Secretary Daniels to enter the Panuco river and give aid to wounded or assistance to oil men, if he believed it advisable. Mayo officially reported that Tampico appeared to be in complete control of Rebels and that all Federals had evacuated.

Announcement was made today that Carranza had granted the United States permission to send civilian representatives to Tampico to take charge of and operate oil properties there. President Wilson directed Secretary Bryan to reply to Carranza immediately.

This country may recognize the Mexican Rebels. Formal demand that it do so is expected from Carranza almost immediately. With Tampico, the second Mexican seaport in importance, in his hands, and with Tuxtam's fall expected momentarily, the success of the revolution is assured, according to officials here.

Arms and ammunition are needed however. Without them the Rebels can not move against Mexico City. Unless the Rebels are recognized they will be unable to get munitions of war.

REMAINS BROUGHT HERE

The remains of Harvey D. Rush, a former resident of this county, who died Tuesday at his home in Kansas City, Kansas, arrived here last night and were taken to Fairview this morning, where burial took place. Mr. Rush was 86 years old and was a brother of Lon Rush of near Fairview. His son of Kansas City accompanied the remains here.

The high school physics class yesterday examined and had the X-ray machines demonstrated to them at the offices of Drs. E. I. Wooden and D. H. Dean. The motion picture machine at the Princess was also exhibited to the students.

A Pointer to Merchants

A certain store which is being re-established by new owners has specialized on famous trade-marked lines in many of its departments.

The figures of the store-sales show that the departments which have been able to secure such goods and push them are growing far ahead of those which have no famous brands to help them.

Responses to the advertising of this store evidence the fact that the public is more eager for well known, trade marked goods than it is for articles whose names mean nothing.

In several instances there is direct co-operative advertising in the local newspapers between the manufacturer and store—and this has brought splendid results in dollars and cents.

Floor Coverings--Draperies

Our pronounced success in this department this season, is a source of gratification to us, and a positive proof of the high quality and character of our carefully selected patterns, colorings and designs. To those who have not yet supplied their needs in Rugs, Linoleums, Matting, Fillers, Oil Cloths, Lace Curtains, Fancy and Plain Curtain yardage, and Silk Drapery yardage, we extend a cordial invitation to visit this department and become convinced of its merits as others have already done.

Why Not Pay More?

For Sherwin-Williams Paint Than For Some Others

REASON No. 1—Because there is 20% more pigment in a gallon can and pigment costs more than oil.

REASON No. 2—Because the formula is on the can; you get just what you pay for—an honest paint.

REASON No. 3—There is no coal oil or cheap mineral oil in it.

REASON No. 4—It has stood the test for 60 years and more calls than any 3 mixed paint on the market.

If You Were Indicted for Murder===

would you care to be tried before a jury whose minds were on other affairs and who would not listen to your testimony? The chances are you would want men who would give their whole attention to your case. You may never be tried for murder but the same proposition applies to every business transaction you make. When you want to buy an article go to the man that specializes that article. Now for instance if you need a vehicle of any kind—that is where I ring in. That is why I can give you better vehicle values, better styles and better service. My whole time and attention is centered on one thing. Every day in the year, Mr. Vehicle Buyer, I am working to obtain better prices and better style for you to make your selections from. Place your business with a man who creates new styles and is working at the business every day to give you satisfaction. I want your vehicle business and don't you think it is a better proposition to place it with me than with some one that is selling buggies as a side issue?

WAS UNABLE TO FIND ANY BETS

Story in Indianapolis Star Regarding
Beveridge Money Only Another
of the Many Misrepresentations.

NOT A DOLLAR ON THE BOARDS

Plenty of Takers if Anyone Believes
Bull Moose Will Get More Votes
Than Miller.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Indianapolis, May 13.—Agencies opposed to the Republican party, not adverse in the least to deliberate misrepresentation continue to circulate the statement that even money is offered on the betting boards of Indianapolis that Beveridge will poll more votes for United States senator than Hugh Th. Miller, the Republican nominee. The Indianapolis Star, on occasions recently, has made this statement, declaring that an offer of $1000 was posted on "a certain betting board" by "a prominent business man."

The publication of this statement has started a rush of men with money who are looking for "easy money." Wednesday morning, after reading this statement in The Star, a prominent merchant of Elwood who supported Roosevelt and Beveridge in 1912, called up Edward J. Hancock, an Indianapolis newspaper man, and commissioned him to make the rounds of the Indianapolis betting boards and take for him every dollar of money that he could find offered on Beveridge. Hancock visited every betting board and could not find a single dollar. He was also unable to find anyone who had ever heard of a bit of Beveridge money being offered.

Here then is the first definite betting proposition that has been presented on the result of the coming election. Any man who has any money to post on the proposition that Beveridge will make such a showing this year can get every dollar of it covered by getting in touch with Mr. Hancock.

Judge J. L. Head, of Brookville, who was in Indianapolis today, said that he and a number of his friends had used the long distance telephone in order to get hold of some of the mysterious money that the Indianapolis Star was talked about but failed.

ed. Efforts to get The Star to substantiate the statements carried in its news columns failed dismally. Men seeking trace of this money called the sporting editor but he knew nothing of the offers and referred them to "the information department" but this source could give them no idea where the money was posted.

At the present time there is not a single bet of any kind on any of the betting boards of Indianapolis. Betting men are not given to the practice of tying up their money for months. They want quick action—that's why little credence can be placed in any such reports appearing in papers opposed to the Republican party.

If any such freak bets should be posted politicians declare that it will be money that the Taggart-Fairbanks organization will post, with the idea that they could afford to lose some small amounts for its possible effect on public sentiment. They are now open in their support of the professional Bull Moose politicians.

"MISS NOBODY FROM NOWHERE" (Imp) is a new two reel drama featuring Ethel Graudin and Hobart Henley. It is a melodrama from first to last and is strong on human interest. Roy Smallwood is the director and Monte Katterjohn author of the play.

"The Borrowed Finery" (Edison), by Alice Williams, is a pathetic story of the little granddaughter of the stage doorkeeper whose one burning desire is for pretty little dresses. She dresses up in a stage costume and goes for a walk, but the costume contains all the leading lady's jewels. She returns just in time to save her grandfather from arrest.

SCENE FROM "MISS NOBODY FROM NOWHERE."

"She makes you laugh in spite of yourself." This is what they all say of Ruth Roland. Wholesome, vivacious and possessing a magnetic personality, Miss Roland captivates the motion picture audience the moment she appears upon the screen. Her wonderful ability to portray the humorous roles for which she is cast has made her the idol of the "fans" the whole world over. She is justly regarded as being one of the foremost comedienesses in motion pictures.

"A Night Out," by Mark Swan, is a recent release. The two men got their overcoats mixed in a restaurant fire and spent the night in jail for assaulting the man who started it. One had a pink slipper in his pocket, the other a nursery bottle. So they had a hard time explaining it all to their wives.

Rapley Holmes, a graduate from the rank of theatrical stars, has retired from the footlights and will henceforth be seen on the screen in the Esanay productions. Holmes is what you might call "the king of four trades" instead of the "jack of all." Mr. Holmes is a deputy sheriff of New York county, and it was through the members of the Lambs club of that city that Sheriff Tom Foley picked him as a deputy, giving as his reason the naturalness shown by this actor in the part of Slim Hoover in Edmund Day's production of "The Roundup."

The forces of the players appearing in Keystone comedies have been strengthened by the addition of Charles Murray, the Biograph comedian. Mr. Murray has appeared for a long time in the majority of the farces made by the Biograph company.

BIG CROWD IS EXPECTED

Diapason Singers of Morristown Will Meet Sunday, May 23.

The Diapason singers of Morristown will hold their annual homecoming and old folks' singing there one week from Sunday. The exercises this year will be held in the Methodist church starting at two o'clock in the afternoon. The officers of the organization are Theopolis Hargrove, Greenfield, president; the Rev. Alonzo Meyers, Muncie, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Rock, Morristown, secretary and treasurer. The singers expect the meeting to be one of the best ever held. The leaders this year are C. C. Chester of Des Moines, Iowa, Theopolis Hargrove and Mr. Meyers.

A Chinese Superstition.
When a Chinese baby takes a nap people think its soul is having a rest—going out for a long walk perhaps. If the nap is a very long one the mother is frightened. She is afraid that her baby's soul has wandered too far away and cannot find its way home. If it doesn't come back, of course the baby will never awaken. Sometimes men are sent out into the streets to call the baby's name over and over again, as though it were a real child lost. They hope to lead the soul back home. If a baby sleeps while it is being carried from one place to another the danger of losing the soul along the way is very great. So whoever carries the little one keeps saying its name out loud, so that the soul will not stray away. They think of the soul as a bird hopping along after them.

Clever Elephant.
"Elephants are clever animals," said a trainer, "and I once had one that could read. He was a quarrelsome beast, and one day he got into a scrape with the Bengal tiger, and before we could get them separated he had his trunk badly damaged. After the scrimmage was over the elephant broke loose and started down the street fast. 'He's going wild!' somebody shouted. 'Don't you believe it,' says I. Now, where do you suppose that elephant went to?"
"Went to the surgeon's, I suppose. Can't you get up a better yarn?"
"No, he didn't go to the surgeon's. He went straight to a little shop where a sign read, 'Trunks repaired while you wait.' Of course he had made a mistake. But what do you expect of a poor dumb brute?"—London Globe.

Tale of Two Dogs.
Sir John Sebright, a prominent society man of the early nineteenth century, owned a remarkable dog. In "Coke of Norfolk" Mrs. A. M. W. Stirling relates that "Sir John Sebright often brought a favorite dog to Holkham, who was remarkably clever at learning tricks. Lord Erskine also possessed a dog which he declared the cleverer of the two. A wager was laid as to which animal in the course of a twelvemonth could be taught the most extraordinary trick. The trial took place at Holkham at the end of a year. Erskine's dog cleverly took a roast oyster out of the fire without injuring himself, but Sir John's dog actually carried a glass of wine without spilling a drop to any gentleman in the room pointed out to him."

South Dakota now produces beets with a sugar content of more than 25 per cent.

AT LEAST FIVE TO BE IN EVENT

Prospects Are Six Counties Will be Represented in District Preliminary Here Friday Night.

ORATOR'S NAMES ANNOUNCED

Girl Will Represent Hancock County—Two Judges From Indianapolis, One From Greenwood.

According to indications today, there will be at least five contestants in the district preliminary of the State High School Discussion league which will be held here in the Graham high school building assembly room Friday night at seven-thirty o'clock, and possibly more. The time was originally announced for eight o'clock, but it was changed to a half hour earlier so that the crowd would not be held late.

Last night L. B. Smelser received from the district chairman at Shelbyville the list of the county representatives who have already entered and names of the judges. The same subject, "The Proposed New Constitution of Indiana," will be used by each of the orators and their argument will be wholly original.

The fact alone that the arguments which will be presented by the embryonic orators will give their own views of the approaching paramount question in Indiana will alone attract a great deal of interest to the contest. It differs from the oratorical contests in which the Rushville high school has participated for several years because the orators used in the past have never been original.

The names of the five entrants who will be here Friday night are as follows: Leroy Brown, Shelbyville, Shelby county; Miss Adeline Class, Wilkinson, Hancock county; Walter Richardson, College Corner, Ohio, Union county; Vernal Casady from this county; Robert Lyon, Richmond, Wayne county.

Brookville, county seat of Franklin county, may also have an entrant in the district preliminary. The Brookville high school will hold its commencement Friday and for this reason it was feared they could not send a representative, but according to word just received it is possible they will send one anyway.

R. R. Fendley of Greenwood, W. H. Stout of Indianapolis and J. S. Hoffman of Indianapolis, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, will act as judges.

Experiments in cotton in southern Spain have been so successful that it may become one of the country's most important crops.

Mediation as a Principle

All of the parties in the present Mexican crisis are agreed that mediation in theory is an admirable thing. The United States, Huerta and Carranza accepted the principles of mediation promptly when the diplomats of Brazil, Argentina and Chili offered their good offices to settle the Mexican muddle. But when it came to the appointment of representatives and an agreement as to conduct pending deliberations of the mediators and the representatives, insuperable obstacles began to loom. Carranza was willing for the United States and Huerta to proclaim an armistice, provided the United States retained control of the custom house at Vera Cruz, shutting off Huerta's resources. Meanwhile he wished to be free to push his army on to Mexico City. He was not willing to submit any of the general Mexican questions to mediation, feeling that things were going his way without it and that he would be greatly aided if the United States would restrict its efforts to punishing Huerta. But still he accepted mediation as a principle. He thought it a fine thing to use on Huerta but not on Carranza.

Huerta professed to accept the principle of mediation, named his representatives and agreed to an armistice. Mexican reports indicate that the latter agreement was not altogether sincere. Huerta is suspected of continuing his preparations for destruction of the railroad from Vera Cruz to Mexico City and with trying to shut off the water supply of Vera Cruz. Even our own State Department, first to accept the principle of mediation, was said to hesitate about naming representatives lest it constitute a virtual recognition of Huerta, looked upon by the administration as the unpardonable sin. All the parties seem agreed as to the beautiful principle of mediation.

Where Advertising Pays

(Anderson Herald.)

The value of advertising was learned long ago by merchants. They found it was worth while because it got results. Facts could be presented on the printed page in a way that appealed to people. A man or woman, looking over the newspaper in the quiet of the home, was in a mood to respond to a well put suggestion. Good advertising, properly presented in the right sort of medium, would move people in large masses because it reached them at the psychological moment.

This lesson, as has been said, was learned long ago, by business men in sharp competition with each other. But the churches, not given to innovations, until recently ignored the possibilities of newspaper advertising.

Then it began to occur to business men connected with churches that they were overlooking an opportunity. The church was being crowded out of the lives of many men and women through sheer heedlessness. In cities in particular it was easy to neglect the services and in most cases there was nobody to do any reminding. So a year ago earnest men undertook to raise money to conduct advertising campaigns to urge churchgoing.

The result in the first cities that tried the plan were so encouraging that it spread to other cities. Today all over the country people are persuasively urged in display advertising on Saturday to go to church the next day. So great has the interest in these methods become that a book has recently been written on the subject of "Church Publicity: The Modern Way to Compel them to Come in," by the Rev. C. F. Reisner of New York, formerly of Kansas City.

A campaign to advertise churchgoing began in Kansas City recently. The advertising set forth reasonably and persuasively considerations why men and women should go to church. It called attention to the value of churches to the community the obligation to support them, the unconsciously retarding influence of the person who stays away from church.

This sort of advertising repeated week after week is bound to have a profound effect. It is going to produce results just as secular advertising produces results—only its results are to be counted in happier and finer lives, and more devoted citizenship.

PROHIBIS ARE NOT ENTHUSIASTIC

Do Not Look Very Favorably Upon
Proposed Constitutional Convention for Their Cause.

WILL VOTE FOR IT HOWEVER

Party Will Meet in State Convention
in Indianapolis June 2 and 3—
Clash in Ranks

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, May 14.—That the Prohibition party will look with no enthusiasm upon the constitutional convention possibility when it meets in state convention here June 2 and 3 is the belief of many of the leaders in that party. Individuals in the party will probably vote for the constitutional convention but their vote will not "be cast thus because of any belief that the convention will advance the prohibition cause towards its goal of state-wide prohibition. They will vote for the convention because they believe it may succeed in giving them the initiative and referendum and woman suffrage.

In fact, as Edward W. Clark views it in the Patriot Phalanx, the Prohibition organ in Indiana, "the odds are very greatly against a constitutional convention in Indiana."

In this statement from Clark many profess to see another out-cropping of the old rivalry between the Anti-Saloon League and the Prohibition party. The Anti-Saloon league favors the constitutional convention asserting that it will bring statewide prohibition. The Prohibition party looks with disfavor on the convention asserting the only way to get state wide prohibition is through the Prohibition party.

The Prohibitionists go further. They say that any vote for the constitutional convention will not indicate a sentiment for prohibition. "As Clark put it today, "The only way to go on record as favoring prohibition is to vote for the Prohibition ticket." It remains to be seen whether this uncompromising stand will hurt the chances for the constitutional convention. Many say it will not—that the Prohibition vote in this state is really negligible—while others here say this apparent split in temperance ranks will do some damage.

Hitting at the constitutional convention idea, Clark says that "the law under which the vote will be taken was framed and introduced by Senator Stotenburg, bosom friend of the Brewer Fleming." And further that the "law was enacted by a soaking wet legislature dominated by Brewer Fleming, Brewer Fairbanks and Tom Taggart." He says the cards have been stacked and that "the brewery bosses are no doubt enjoying a silent chuckle as they watch some of the honest temperance friends playing the game."

Clark adds that the constitutional convention method is expensive and uncertain and that the way to get statewide prohibition is to insist on a mere legislative enactment. He says, however, that because of this chance the convention offers to obtain suffrage for women and the initiative and referendum he favors it, personally. He does not explain wherein there is a better chance for suffrage and the I and R. than for prohibition.

E. S. Shumaker secretary of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, which is opposed by Clark, pins his faith to the fact that the delegates to the convention would be non-partisan and very probably elected on the liquor issue as the principal one. He says that the first step is to get the convention, and that then will be time enough to fight for the delegates.

Meanwhile the brewers are "sitting by" apparently enjoying with the "silent chuckle" mentioned by Clark the little clash within the temperance ranks.

NOT CERTAIN AS TO OWNERSHIP

Bloomington Not Quite Sure Whether
City has Hand in Water Works
or Not.

DIRECTORS ARE APPOINTED

City is as Far Away as Ever in Solving Water Question—Shortage
for Five Years

(By United Press.)

Bloomington, Ind., May 14.—Bloomington either does or does not own her water works, which neither the mayor, councilmen or lawyers are quite sure. By action of the city fathers, the present municipal plant, which is so poor that the city has been suffering for water for the past five years, was turned over to a holding company, together with all franchise rights. So far it seems like private ownership.

But of the $200,000 capitol stock of the company the city is to own $195,000 which the company is to deed back, together with a binding option, and provision that any sale must be approved by the council.

By this round-about way Bloomington is seeking to solve the most vexing of all of her problems, a year-round supply of pure water. Last summer the city suffered severely from a drought of five weeks during which water was sold on the streets as high as $5 a barrel. Relief only came with heavy rains, and yet the county was within a half-inch of its normal rainfall. Such are the conditions that led to the creation of the novel municipally owned holding company.

Twelve leading citizens were officially appointed directors of the company for the year. The mayor named two, and each member of the council picked two.

According to those on the inside, it is not certain that the city is any nearer the solution of the tangle than ever, for it is known that the council and mayor split three to three on the question of the site for the new plant, and it is believed that the new appointees are in the same predicament.

BRITISH HAVE NOT MUCH HOPE

Outlook for Winning Over America at Polo Next Month is not Very Bright.

GLOOM THERE VERY THICK

Detroit Tigers are Real Example of Come-back Stuff Being Surprise of Season

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)

New York, May, 14.—Britishers claim to be without cheer or hope over their chances of turning the tables on America in the International Polo Cup series next month at Meadowbrook. Reason for the chunks of gloom which can be cut with a knife wherever English poloists met to discuss the outlook is that Captain Lockett will not be at No. 3 position when the fracas opens.

It was the dashing, slashing defense and attack of Lockett who met every American, catapulting attack with the same sort of goods, that stopped the Big Four temporarily on several occasions last year, and made them begin all over again. It was Lockett's work more than the work of any two men on the English team which kept the American score down and the English tally up.

To replace Lockett the invaders will either have Lord Wodehouse or Lord Wimborne. Both are great players, but neither can class with Lockett. Neither can hope to stop the Waterbury boys anywhere near as effectively as even Lockett did, unless they have improved eighty per cent—and the English enthusiasts don't think either has grown that much.

The American Four looks very good. There will be, undoubtedly the three veterans Larry and Monte Waterbury, and Devereux Milburn, galloping about the green and swatting tar out of the ball when the whistle blows. For the fourth position there are Malcolm Stevenson, Phipps, Rene Montague and one or two others, who are less prominently known. Stevenson has "sat in" before and is far from being a slouch at the gladsome game. Phipps and Montague have been playing like Sahara typhoons at practice games this spring and either should show up the stuff if called on to pull a George Washington and repel the Redcoats.

It's true that few even pull the come-back stuff with any degree of noise, but Eo-yah Hughie Jennings at the start of this year's race did that thing. With the same pep and gingerine that he showed when he copped the American League flag he has been going like an oil saturated house afire. As a contemporary aptly put in Hughie's singeing flash may be awful hard on the grass sprouts around first base but it's mighty fine for the National Pastime.

Prophesies that were made for young Ray Caldwell when the Yanks were being mauled, torn, mutilated and effaced by every team in the American League last year, are this year being fulfilled.

With Peerless Leader Chance now coming into his own as a reorganizer and driver of ball players, Caldwell is being given the sort of support that puts ambition and love of gore in the heart of a young pitcher with the stuff.

Of course, Caldwell had the stuff all the time, but he hadn't much incentive to squeeze it out last year. With the Highlanders fighting like cornered mountain lions to the last announcement by the umpire, Caldwell should this year pile up behind himself a whale of a record. He has certainly started right. In his first two games—against Athletics and Red Sox—all that those teams could get off him were three safe slams each and no sign of a run.

Turning back to that Detroit rush, there is offered in the situation a mighty good answer to these pessimists and calamity shriekers who have been insisting that because of the big play of the Federals this year, those major league teams which are up against Federal opposition would "be allowed" to go out in front to keep the patronage.

In the American League, Detroit for a long time showed all the class. There was no Fed opposition in Detroit. In Pittsburgh, despite the fact that the Fed team was being banged around like a top red headed stepchild by every other team in the Fed League, the Pirates, led by Fred Clarke were galloping away with lots of daylight between them and their nearest competitors the last time we slanted the club standings.

If the pessimists were right and the magnates really wanted to do a little "fixing" they certainly could have a far better job of it than they have so far.

The Pacific Coast bids fair to keep its place at the head of the column as the producer of high jumpers. After giving us Horine whose jumping record of 6 feet 7 inches looked to be good for many years, the Coast came right back a few weeks ago and showed Eddie Beeson in the Pacific Coast Conference meet. Beeson beat Horine's jump by 5/8 of an inch, which is considerable distance when it's piled on top of 6 feet 7 inches, especially if the man who tries to get over it doesn't use a ballon or an aeroplane.

Kennedy Denies That Team Will be on Road.

Manager Kennedy of the Arlington Red Sox is out with a statement in which he denies that the team will be made a road team and according to Kennedy the team will play at Arlington almost every Sunday this summer. The Red Sox will play the National Forty team of Indianapolis next Sunday. The Arlington team was first booked to play at Shelbyville but according to Kennedy the team will play at home. The National Forty team is said to be a fast aggregation and the Red Sox will have to go some to win.

SPECIALS ARE COMING TO WIN

Expect to Repeat Feat of Last Year When Rushville Was Defeated—Patterson to Pitch.

GETS NEW FIRST BASEMAN

Manager Fisher Believes Arcadians Will Travel With Best From This Time on.

The Arcadians face a hard game Sunday in the Indianapolis Specials. The Specials defeated Rushville once last year and are out to repeat. Manager Johnson of the Specials has sent word here that his team is coming to win and the fans expect a real battle.

Patterson, formerly of the DePauw University team and Minneapolis Northern league team will be on the mound for Rushville. Patterson is in condition and the fans will have the first chance to see him work. He is a hard worker and should make a valuable man for the Arcadians. The Specials will use either Hollingsworth or Whaley. Hollingsworth is just back from a league and if he pitches the Rushville team may have trouble with the Specials.

With the team going like it did last Sunday the Specials will know they have been in a battle. Manager Fisher has a line on two first basemen and the one that looks the best will be retained to take Bridgeman's place until his selfoil is out. One of these men is Kinch, who played three or four games with the Arcadians last year. His home is in Hamilton. Kinch is left handed and is confident that he can fill Bridgeman's place. Fisher is also after an outfielder. Wilson of Newcastle, who played the outfield for the Hoosiers last year wants to come here and may be given a chance.

One week from Sunday the Arcadians will play at Connersville. The fans are looking forward to this series of games as the two teams always play their best game against each other. The game Sunday should attract a large crowd as the Specials are not unknown here. They played a 4 to 3 game against the A. B. C. team this season and are booked with the best team in Indiana. The Specials will line up, Lambert, right field; Kraft, second base; Lentz, third; Burk left field; Doremus, first; Mitchell, catch; Layton, short stop; Reed, center field; Hollingsworth or Whaley, pitch. There will be no changes in the Rushville line up outside of first base and Kinch will more than likely start the game there. Poston of Gwynneville, who has given perfect satisfaction in the last two games, will umpire.

city and county for the visitors. W. T. Johnston, president of the trade extension department of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, made some facetious remarks concerning the trip of the boosters and complimented Rushville people on the sincere and unfeigned welcome which had been extended to the crowd of which he was at the head.

"I have found already," he continued, "that you people think lots of Rushville and I have observed that you have a just right in taking pride in your city. Soon after I got off the train a boy stopped me and asked me to buy a map. I asked him the price and he said a dollar. 'Why, my boy,' I replied, 'I can get a map of the whole world for fifty cents.' 'Yes,' answered the boy, 'but it wouldn't have Rushville on it.'"

Later, in introducing a speaker, President Johnston said some member of the Rushville committee had approached him about the Rushville fair. He said the Rushville man had confided in him that they were having quite a controversy whether it should be moved from the present grounds to a place near the city. Mr. Johnston said he studied the question thoroughly and then told the Rushville man that, from all observations, he believed the best place to hold the Rushville fair would be around the neck or the waist.

George Puella, assistant internal revenue at the port of Cincinnati and in charge of the United States sub-treasury at Cincinnati, commented on the cordial greeting here. He told the story of the merchant who announced from a big sign that on a certain date all goods would be sold at cost. His neighbor two doors away, thinking to outdo his competitor, said on a sign that he would sell all goods below cost on the same day. The man operating the store between the two, when he saw the two signs, in front of his place set up a sign which read, "Main Entrance." This, he said, expressed his sentiments in regard to Rushville.

Marcus Fecheimer boosted the University of Cincinnati. He said he did not want the impression abroad that Cincinnati existed for business only, but that it had many institutions of worth. He spoke of the zoological garden and other attractions of the "Queen City."

The universal comment of the boosters was that they were greeted by the largest crowd and the best and most cordial welcome here that they had had during the whole trip.

"We could notice the change in sentiment just as soon as we got over the border into Indiana," said Frank R. Schneider, one of the boosters. "There is something to this Hoosier hospitality. The receptions we received in Ohio cities were nothing compared to those given us in Indiana."

About two dozen took advantage of the hospitality of the I. & C. in offering the use of a special car from Connersville here so the Cincinnati men could see the sort of service would be given when the extension goes through.

DISTINCTION IS OFTEN IMPARTED BY A CHEMISETTE OR AN ORIGINAL GIRDLE

Belts and sashes play even a more important part this season than last in the world of dress. For morning wear there are girdles and belts of suede and patent leather; for the thin afternoon frock silk and satin sashes and girdles are favored. Roman striped and plaid ribbons are used considerably for these purposes and also the plainer silks and satins; often one sees a strap or button of patent leather on a satin girdle and the effect is decidedly chic.

Plain wash dresses for summertime wear may be brightened up wonderfully by a judiciously chosen sash or girdle; one really can not have too many of them.

The white eponge dress illustrated in No. 7997 has a sheer little chemi-sette of organdy and a girdle of black satin finished with an unusual knot. This dress requires, for size 36, 5 yards of 36-inch material, with 2 1/4 yards of net or lace for the guimpe.

In No. 8104 we have again the sheer chemisette and an attractive sash; the material is biscuit-color ratine, the shaped flounces on the skirt being bound with a narrow edge of black to correspond with the sash, which is of black satin. To copy this design in size 36, requires 5 1/2 yards of 36-inch material, with 1 1/4 yards for the chemisette. Ratine and eponge are priced from 75 cents a yard and up.

No. 7997—sizes 34 to 44.
No. 8104—sizes 32 to 42.

CHICAGO PAID TRIBUTE TO HERO

Elaborate Services Marked Ceremonies Over Body of Blue-Jacket Killed in Mexico.

LAY IN STATE AT CITY HALL

Program Carried Out at Synagogue and High Officials Participated—Monument by Subscription.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., May 14.—Elaborate services today marked the tribute of Chicago to her hero and contribution to the nineteen boys who fell at Vera Cruz—Samuel Meisenberg Marten. Accompanied by a military guard of honor, the body arrived in Chicago yesterday morning from New York, where services had been conducted with all the military pomp of the United States government on Monday.

For three hours yesterday, the caisson, bearing the body of Meisenberg lay in state at the City Hall, where it was viewed by thousands. In the afternoon, the flag draped casket was removed to the home of Sammy's mother, that his parents and brother and sister and other relatives might be alone with their dead. When arrangements were being made for the public ceremonies, Sammy's mother wrote the committee in charge:

"I must have my boy, Sammele, alone for just two hours. I want to say Kadish over his body. Then the public may have him. But he must be alone with me first."

The committee readily acceded to her request. From an undertaker's chapel at Twelfth and Lawdale streets, the following procession formed this morning, and marched to the Anshe Kanassas Isreal Synagogue where the funeral services were conducted. The order of the procession was as follows:

Motorcycle squad of park police; mounted park police; mounted city police; city police on foot; Captain Robert Y. Rhea, grand marshal; Military band; Bluejackets; Marines. Military organizations, Cavalry and Infantry. Hearse.

Honorary pallbearers at side; Active pallbearers behind; Family; Clergymen; Veterans; Federal representatives; State representatives; Committee of Senate; House of Representatives committee; County officials; City representatives; City police; Marks Nathan Jewish Orphan Home Band; Funeral committee; Uninformed organizations; Fraternal organizations; Independent Order Western Star, Order British Abraham, Ind; Order British-Abraham Knights of Joseph; Progressive order of the West; Representatives of congregations.

More than 3,000 persons were in line of march, which was witnessed by many times that number of persons. Three carriages were required to carry the floral tributes.

The ceremonies today were solemnly impressive. The United States government, the state of Illinois, and the City of Chicago, with a common purpose, united with the local Jewish organizations in paying tribute to one who had given his young life—all that he was and all that he hoped to be—to his country. It was a silent throng that stood with heads uncovered and watched the procession move to and from the Jewish synagogue.

Prominent among those who represented the government were Governor Edward F. Dunn, Mayor Carter H. Harrison, Senator J. Hamilton Lewis and Judge Julian W. Mack.

The program observed at the synagogue was as follows:

Introduction of chairman—Mr. Salk, President Congregation.

Opening remarks—Name of chairman to be announced.

Psalm, Chapter 44—Cantor Milkowsky and choir.

Sermon—Rabbi E. Epstein.

Address—Carter H. Harrison.

Eulogy—Judge Julian W. Mack.

Prayer for Dead—Rabbi Vezin.

Funeral oration—Senator J. Hamilton Lewis.

When the last hymn had died away, the procession reformed and marched to the Waldheim cemetery, where military services were held after the following program:

Eulogy—Rabbi Saul Silber of Congregation Ohave Sholem.

Address—Nathan T. Brenner, Grand Master I. W. S. O.

Eulogy—Rabbi A. A. Goldenson of Congregation Shaare Tfilch Bnei Ruben.

Address—Representative State Militia.

Prayer—"Zodeck Hadin."

Prayer, "Zodeck Hadin"—Cantor Reichlin and choir Congregation Tifereth Zion.

Benediction.

A plot of ground 200 feet square marked the last resting place of the dead blue-jacket. Plans for a monument, to be paid for by public subscription, are already under way.

Chicago, Ill. — "I must thank you with all my heart for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I used to go to my doctor for pills and remedies and they did not help me. I had headaches and could not eat, and the doctor claimed I had female trouble and must have an operation. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it and feel fine. A lady said one day, 'Oh, I feel so tired all the time and have headache.' I said, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,' and she did and feels fine now."—Mrs. M. R. KARSCHNICK, 1438 N. Paulina Street, Chicago, Illinois.

The Other Case. Dayton, Ohio. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of pains in my side that I had for years and which doctors' medicines failed to relieve. NEEDLEWORK

By MARGARET LAWRENCE

A DECORATIVE EYELET DESIGN APPLIED TO CHEMISE AND DRAWERS

Even the most inexperienced can easily make charming underwear at home, now that the style requires no fitting to the garments.

Hand embroidery is quite the most satisfactory trimming for underwear, as it wears much better than lace and even often outwears the material of the gown itself. Batiste, nainsook and fine long cloth are the standard materials for making these garments, but of late, cross-barred muslin, cotton crepon, dotted swiss and China silk are being used, and even crepe de Chine is often made into most practical wearing apparel.

This attractive eyelet design, illustrated on the chemise and the drawers, is from pattern number 14514. It is two and one-quarter inches wide and the pattern contains three yards for ten cents. The flowers and leaves in this design may be embroidered in solid work and eyelets with white mercerized cotton or filo silk. A one-inch wide ribbon should be run through the eyelets.

This design of wreaths and eyelets may also be used on nightgowns, negligees, children's clothes and infant's garments. If the eyelets are omitted, the wreaths may be used on waists, dresses and children's clothes.

An attractive chemise may be made from pattern 8108 which is cut in four sizes; thirty-two, thirty-six, forty and forty-four. The drawers, illustrated here, are from pattern number 8111. These are cut in five sizes; twenty-two, twenty-four, twenty-six, twenty-eight, and thirty. Each of these patterns is ten cents. The seams on these garments should be French seamed and the finishings should be well done so that they will not come apart in the laundry.

Guaranteed hot-iron transfer pattern will be supplied to readers upon receipt of price.

FOR CHRONIC COUGHS

Milton, Pa., Woman Has Found a Remedy.

Mrs. Howard Wagner of Milton, Pa., says: "I had a bad cold for months, and would cough every night until midnight. I consulted a doctor and took two kinds of medicine but got no relief. Vinol was recommended and after taking it a week I could sleep all night without coughing once. I continued its use and now have a fine appetite, never felt better and my cough is entirely gone."

It is a well known fact that when a person is run-down, stomach out of order, or the system overloaded with waste matter, vital resistance is lowered and colds and coughs are easily contracted.

The safest and surest method we know to overcome this condition is by taking our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. In the most natural manner Vinol tones up the digestive organs, promotes a hearty appetite, enriches the blood, and as a specific for chronic coughs, colds and bronchial troubles Vinol is unexcelled.

Try a bottle of Vinol on our offer to return your money if it fails to help you. F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists, Rushville, Indiana.

Obituary.

The beautiful gentle spirit of Bro. Chas. Leonidas Bates took its flight Saturday, May 2d, about 4.30 o'clock at his home in Rushville, Ind. Everything was done that skill could minister and love perform.

"Death did but stand, And gently touch his hand. To lead him forth a guest. Into God's own rest."

He was born in Scott county, Ky., April 8, 1862 was a son of Richard and Elizabeth Bates. He was united in marriage to Barbara Ellen Kemper, Sept. 24, 1885, to this union ten children were born nine of whom survive, one having died in infancy. He was a faithful member of the Ninth Street Baptist church and held the office of deacon and Sunday school Supt. His was a beautiful christian life one that will be sadly missed in his church. He leaves to mourn his loss a loving wife, nine children, and aged mother, five sisters and one brother. The funeral service was held at the Ninth Street Baptist church conducted by his former pastor. Rev. Chas. Mangold of Demossville, Ky., Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Burial at East Hill cemetery.

Many beautiful floral offerings and expressions of sympathy were received bespeaking the high esteem in which he was held.

and trainers have gone elsewhere. Members of the committeesaid that Rush county ranks with Chicago, Lexington, and New York as the logical horse center of the United States, because this county has raised many of the fastest horses ever on a track and has a wide reputation for this industry.

Fast horse training was at one time the chief industry of the county. Relation to the fast horse business could be traced to at least half of the residents of the city. But the business has decreased and it is the purpose of the new industries committee to rejuvenate it. There have ben many grat races held on the Riverside park track and one world's record was established there.

The city would be benefited in many ways by the acquisition of several stables of fast horses. The merchants would reap the first benefit, but the benefit would accrue to all because it would bring much more money into the community. One fast horse trainer here now pays a thousand dollars every month for help and in blacksmith and harness bills. It is pointed that Rush county should have five or six times as many fast horses here.

The committee also devised ways and means to bring a canning factory here. The committee believes that this is a good county for such an industry. It is pointed out that tomatoes, peas and other products of the county could be furnished and that farmers and truck patch gardeners could reap a rich revenue.

The announcement of the committee some time ago of its intention to try to bring some greenhouses here has brought forth the announcement to the Chamber of Commerce that Glen Moore will extend his plant soon. He already has much business out of the city, he reported to the committee. Fleener and Windler also are going to enlarge their plants. Frank Windler of this firm reported that he needed the road to the cemetery opened.

MELLEN'S MONEY WENT TO AID T.R.

Charles S. Mellen, Former Head of
New Haven, Will Tell How
Officials Were Bribed.

PART OF RAILROAD PROGRAM

Declares he Was Placed at Head of System by the Late J. P. Morgan—On Stand Today.

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 14.—Charles S. Mellen, president of the New Haven system for ten years, took the stand today before the interstate commerce commission prepared to disclose the secrets of that railroad's high finance.

He testified over the direct protest of the attorney general who declared that his testimony carried immunity from criminal prosecution. The commission insists through Counsel Folk that with Mellen's story as a base, proceedings can be instituted to force restitution to the innocent stockholders.

Mellen publicly declared that he planned to reveal the whole plot whereby legislatures and city governments were purchased and entire railway systems manipulated for the benefit of Wall Street men.

Mellen laid the groundwork today. Standing out in his story was the statement that he was representative for the late J. P. Morgan. He said he was put at the head of the New Haven by Morgan.

Mellen balked when asked whether New York City officials were bribed, but practically admitted this later.

Bald Jack Rose Closes Breach in His
Story Made by Defense.

(By United Press.)

New York, May 14.—Bald Jack Rose today ended his testimony as star witness for the state in the trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, charged with plotting the murder of Gambler Rosenthal. Spurred on by District Attorney Whitman, every breach in history opened by the cross-examination of the defense yesterday was closed. Sharp tilts between the attorneys came when Manton, for the defense, grew angry. He accused Whitman of coaching his witness over night. He was reprimanded by the court.

H. H. Elwood and son Charles of Raleigh were the guest of friends in this city today.

BOOSTERS LIKE RUSHVILLE WAY

Cincinnati Men Are Pleased With
Hearty and Unfeigned Reception
Given Them Here.

THEY COME AND GO IN AN HOUR

Chamber of Commerce Membership
Escorts Visitors and Large
Crowd Hears Speeches.

The Cincinnati boosters came and went this morning within an hour, but the impression that they are jolly, good fellows, which they left here, will remain for a much longer time. The flow of wit and good fellowship from the speeches of the visitors as well as the Rushville speakers keep the crowd of several hundred people gathered at the north steps of the court house in good humor.

Through requests from the Chamber of Commerce, the city schools were dismissed for the hour and the pupils helped to enliven the occasion. The Chamber of Commerce membership turned out in large numbers and escorted the visitors to and from the train. On the return trip to the train, the whole crowd joined in the procession and sent their well wishes with the happy boosters.

John C. Weber's prize band, of Cincinnati played several selections. This attracted a great many people. There were only twenty pieces with the band, but it lived up its reputation of being one of the best musical organizations in the United States. Of course, when the band appears at the chautauqua here in August, it will be greatly augmented. The whole band could not be carried on this trip.

The boosters made a fine appearance, all carrying white umbrellas with the inscription, "Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce." The procession, headed by the Rushville police force and Chamber of Commerce members, and followed by the band and the visitors, marched around the public square to the north entrance of the court house where the crowd gathered on the steps and in the streets.

Mayor C. L. Behont called the meeting to order and Anthony Schrichte one of the speakers for the Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly of Rushville and Rush county. He informed the visitors that this was primarily a farming district, "the richest agricultural district in the state." He also expressed the good will of the community for the Cincinnati crowd and told them of the desire of Rushville and Rush county to get more, intimately acquainted with Cincinnati through the extension of the I. & C. to Cincinnati from here.

Samuel L. Trabue praised Rushville and Rush county and spoke of the good feeling that exists between "one of the best cities in the middle-west" and this city. He said Rushville had the best of good wishes for Cincinnati and was glad to give its citizens a hearty welcome here.

Will M. Sparks, president of the Chamber of Commerce, declared that there may be better counties than Rush county, but no one here had ever seen them. Furthermore, he said, there may be finer cities than Rushville, but no one here had ever admitted it. President Sparks assured the visitors that we of Rushville are very proud of our home and that we patronize our own merchants when we want anything. He expressed the heartiest good will of the

Fruit Growers and Gardeners say
Heavy Fall was Apparent, but
That it Was Not Killing One.

TEMPERATURE NEAR FREEZE

A heavy frost fell last night, but the general impression prevails among fruit growers and truck patch gardeners, that it was not a killing frost. The first thing this morning that people, who are growing a garden and take some pride in their efforts "to get close to nature," did was to examine the garden. They found the plants covered with a white coating of something which the unsophisticated thought looked like fall of snow, but which the experienced gardener knew was a frost. The experienced eye soon found that the frost did no damage.

If the weather man's prediction may be quoted, this unseasonable weather will not continue longer. The forecast is for fair and warmer weather. The temperature rose gradually throughout the day from the near-freezing point that it reached this morning.

PAYS FINE AFTER HE RACES A TEAM

Walter May Pleads Guilty to Public
Intoxication Charge After Driving Cab to Connersville.

STAGED "BEN HUR" STUNT

Walter May, employed at the Hiner livery stable, pleaded guilty to the charge of public intoxication this morning before Mayor Behont and was fined one dollar and costs, which was paid. May, while intoxicated last evening drove a team of horses hitched to a cab, through the business district on the run. A large crowd gathered to watch the excitement. May had been to a funeral in Connersville and while there took on too much booze. After that he got the idea of staging the "Ben Hur" stunt.

He raced the team the entire length of second street and it was expected that the horses would fall almost any moment on the brick street. The team was stopped near the corner of First and Main and when May got off the cab he turned and ran as though a regiment of soldiers was chasing him.

SCHOOL GIRL IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Irene, Only Daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Columbus Glore, Struck by
Big Four Passenger.

WAS WALKING ALONG TRACK

Became Confused When Flagman
Called to her and Dashed Directly
in Path of Train

Irene, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Glore, was instantly killed this morning at eight o'clock by the Big Four south-bound passenger train, number 1, which is due in this city at 8:03. The accident took place at the Ninth street crossing.

The little girl was on her way to school and was coming down the railroad, Cicero Newhouse, the watchman, called to her and she seemed to be frightened. Mr. Newhouse supposed that she heard him and then saw her dart from behind the flag house onto the railroad. The train was exceeding the speed limit according to witnesses, and did not stop until it reached the Seventh street crossing, two blocks distant. No blame is placed on Mr. Newhouse as he was several feet from the girl and could not have reached her in time.

Irene was said to be in a hurry to reach school as she thought she would be late. Mr. and Mrs. Glore live on West Tenth street and he is employed as a lumberman. Both Mr. and Mrs. Glore were present soon after the accident and were greatly shocked.

Just what part of the engine hit the girl is not definitely known, but it is supposed by railroad officials that the engine's pilot beam struck her. She was hurled from the track on the sidewalk and the wheels did not pass over her body. A dent the size of an egg was made in her temple over her left eye, crushing her skull.

The little girl was seven years of age and was in the second grade of school at the Jackson building. Miss Belle Gregg, her teacher, remarked this morning that she was one of her most brilliant pupils.

"One more last stand" of the Federals is expected before the fighting begins at the doors of the Mexican palace.

PROPOSED THAT FAIR BE MOVED

New Industries Committee of Chamber of Commerce Hears Arguments For Change in Location.

WANTED AT RIVERSIDE PARK

Fact That it Would be Closer to City
and Track is Better Advanced
—Other Business.

A profitable meeting of the new industries committee of the Chamber of Commerce was held in C. of C. headquarters last night and the chief topic of discussion was the proposed removal of the Rush county fair from the fair grounds east of the city to Riverside park just across the mill race south of the city.

J. Q. Thomas, secretary of the fair association, discussed with the committee the possibility of such a change and a committee was appointed to confer with the Rush County Fair association in regard to the innovation. Members of the committee and others who have had the suggestion presented to them in the last few days are very hopeful that it will be possible to make the change because it will be beneficial to every one concerned.

Most arguments before the committee last night favored the change. Many reasons were advanced. The chief one was the advantage that would be gained by the use of the excellent mile track at Riverside park, which is considered one of the best tracks in Indiana. The race track at the fair grounds has been in such condition for several years that trainers will not race their horses here. The result has been that it was impossible to bring good horses here and make the races up to the standard they were years ago.

The track was spoiled when it was moved a few years ago to allow the I. & C. traction line a roadway. If the track had been left as it was, it would not have been damaged, but the turns were shortened. Horsemen fear their horses may be hurt in making the turns. As a result they slow down and this reduces the time of the miles.

The proximity of Riverside park to the city of Rushville was another of the very potent advantages that was pointed out. Farmers and others attending the fair would not be at the inconvenience of driving over a dusty road or riding a car to the grounds.

The argument is also advanced that night fair could be held at Riverside park, but that it is doubtful whether a night fair could be staged at the present county fair ground. It has been considered, but always held unlikely because of the great distance to the ground the great expense incident to lighting the grounds. It is shown that Riverside park could be lighted very easily from the city current.

It was pointed out at the committee meeting that W. A. Jones, who owns Riverside park is very anxious that the fair be located there and that arrangements could be made easily to use the ground. He is anxious, it was shown, to bring horse trainers here to increase the revenue from the ground.

The new industries committee is working especially hard to secure training stables for the many horses which would be here, once the stables were built. The committee believes that the race horse business is the best industry Rush county ever had. It was at a high tide once upon a time, but has been allowed to drop

This Country Expects Demand From
Carranza Any Day Following
Fall of Tampico Last Night.

CAN'T FIGHT WITHOUT ARMS

Admiral Mayo Given Permission to
Enter Panuco River to Aid
Wounded And Assist Oil Men.

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 14.—Admiral Mayo was empowered today by Secretary Daniels to enter the Panuco river and give aid to wounded or assistance to oil men, if he believed it advisable. Mayo officially reported that Tampico appeared to be in complete control of Rebels and that all Federals had evacuated.

Announcement was made today that Carranza had granted the United States permission to send civilian representatives to Tampico to take charge of and operate oil properties there. President Wilson directed Secretary Bryan to reply to Carranza immediately.

This country may recognize the Mexican Rebels. Formal demand that it do so is expected from Carranza almost immediately. With Tampico, the second Mexican seaport in importance, in his hands, and with Tuxtam's fall expected momentarily, the success of the revolution is assured, according to officials here.

Arms and ammunition are needed however. Without them the Rebels can not move against Mexico City. Unless the Rebels are recognized they will be unable to get munitions of war.

REMAINS BROUGHT HERE

The remains of Harvey D. Rush, a former resident of this county, who died Tuesday at his home in Kansas City, Kansas, arrived here last night and were taken to Fairview this morning, where burial took place. Mr. Rush was 86 years old and was a brother of Lon Rush of near Fairview. His son of Kansas City accompanied the remains here.

The high school physics class yesterday examined and had the X-ray machines demonstrated to them at the offices of Drs. E. I. Wooden and D. H. Dean. The motion picture machine at the Princess was also exhibited to the students.

A Pointer to Merchants

A certain store which is being re-established by new owners has specialized on famous trade-marked lines in many of its departments.

The figures of the store-sales show that the departments which have been able to secure such goods and push them are growing far ahead of those which have no famous brands to help them.

Responses to the advertising of this store evidence the fact that the public is more eager for well known, trade marked goods than it is for articles whose names mean nothing.

In several instances there is direct co-operative advertising in the local newspapers between the manufacturer and store—and this has brought splendid results in dollars and cents.

Floor Coverings--Draperies

Our pronounced success in this department this season, is a source of gratification to us, and a positive proof of the high quality and character of our carefully selected patterns, colorings and designs. To those who have not yet supplied their needs in Rugs, Linoleums, Matting, Fillers, Oil Cloths, Lace Curtains, Fancy and Plain Curtain yardage, and Silk Drapery yardage, we extend a cordial invitation to visit this department and become convinced of its merits as others have already done.

Story in Indianapolis Star Regarding
Beveridge Money Only Another
of the Many Misrepresentations.

NOT A DOLLAR ON THE BOARDS

Plenty of Takers if Anyone Believes
Bull Moose Will Get More Votes
Than Miller.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]
Indianapolis, May 13.—Agencies opposed to the Republican party, not adverse in the least to deliberate misrepresentation continue to circulate the statement that even money is offered on the betting boards of Indianapolis that Beveridge will poll more votes for United States senator than Hugh T. Miller, the Republican nominee. The Indianapolis Star, on occasions recently, has made this statement, declaring that an offer of $1000 was posted on "a certain betting board" by "a prominent business man."

The publication of this statement has started a rush of men with money who are looking for "easy money." Wednesday morning, after reading this statement in The Star, a prominent merchant of Elwood who supported Roosevelt and Beveridge in 1912, called up Edward J. Hancock, an Indianapolis newspaper man, and commissioned him to make the rounds of the Indianapolis betting boards and take for him every dollar of money that he could find offered on Beveridge. Hancock visited every betting board and could not find a single dollar. He was also unable to find anyone who had ever heard of a bit of Beveridge money being offered.

Here then is the first definite betting proposition that has been presented on the result of the coming election. Any man who has any money to post on the proposition that Beveridge will make such a showing this year can get every dollar of it covered by getting in touch with Mr. Hancock.

Judge J. L. Head, of Brookville, who was in Indianapolis today, said that he and a number of his friends had used the long distance telephone in order to get hold of some of the mysterious money that the Indianapolis Star was talked about but failed.

ed. Efforts to get The Star to substantiate the statements carried in its news columns failed dismally. Men seeking trace of this money called the sporting editor but he knew nothing of the offers and referred them to "the information department" but this source could give them no idea where the money was posted.

At the present time there is not a single bet of any kind on any of the betting boards of Indianapolis. Betting men are not given to the practice of tying up their money for months. They want quick action—that's why little credence can be placed in any such reports appearing in papers opposed to the Republican party.

If any such freak bets should be posted politicians declare that it will be money that the Taggart-Fairbanks organization will post, with the idea that they could afford to lose some small amounts for its possible effect on public sentiment. They are now open in their support of the professional Bull Moose politicians.

RUTH ROLAND.

"MISS NOBODY FROM NOWHERE" (Imp) is a new two reel drama featuring Ethel Graudin and Hobart Henley. It is a melodrama from first to last and is strong on human interest. Roy Smallwood is the director and Monte Katter-John author of the play.

"The Borrowed Finery" (Edison), by Alice Williams, is a pathetic story of the little granddaughter of the stage doorkeeper whose one burning desire is for pretty little dresses. She dresses up in a stage costume and goes for a walk, but the costume contains all the leading lady's jewels. She returns just in time to save her grandfather from arrest.

SCENE FROM "MISS NOBODY FROM NOWHERE."

"She makes you laugh in spite of yourself." This is what they all say of Ruth Roland.

Wholesome, vivacious and possessing a magnetic personality, Miss Roland captivates the motion picture audience the moment she appears upon the screen. Her wonderful ability to portray the humorous roles for which she is cast has made her the idol of the "fans" the whole world over. She is justly regarded as being one of the foremost comedienne in motion pictures.

"A Night Out," by Mark Swan, is a recent release. The two men got their overcoats mixed in a restaurant fire and spent the night in jail for assaulting the man who started it. One had a pink slipper in his pocket, the other a nursery bottle. So they had a hard time explaining it all to their wives.

Rapley Holmes, a graduate from the rank of theatrical stars, has retired from the footlights and will henceforth be seen on the screen in the Esanay productions. Holmes is what you might call "the king of four trades" instead of the "jack of all." Mr. Holmes is a deputy sheriff of New York county, and it was through the members of the Lambs club of that city that Sheriff Tom Foley picked him as a deputy, giving as his reason the naturalness shown by this actor in the part of Slim Hoover in Edmund Day's production of "The Roundup."

The forces of the players appearing in Keystone comedies have been strengthened by the addition of Charles Murray, the Biograph comedian. Mr. Murray has appeared for a long time in the majority of the farces made by the Biograph company.

AT LEAST FIVE TO BE IN EVENT

Prospects Are Six Counties Will be Represented in District Preliminary Here Friday Night.

ORATOR'S NAMES ANNOUNCED

Girl Will Represent Hancock County—Two Judges From Indianapolis, One From Greenwood.

According to indications today, there will be at least five contestants in the district preliminary of the State High School Discussion league which will be held here in the Graham high school building assembly room Friday night at seven-thirty o'clock, and possibly more. The time was originally announced for eight o'clock, but it was changed to a half hour earlier so that the crowd would not be held late.

Last night L. B. Smelser received from the district chairman at Shelbyville the list of the county representatives who have already entered and names of the judges. The same subject, "The Proposed New Constitution of Indiana," will be used by each of the orators and their argument will be wholly original.

The fact alone that the arguments which will be presented by the embryonic orators will give their own views of the approaching paramount question in Indiana will alone attract a great deal of interest to the contest. It differs from the oratorical contests in which the Rushville high school has participated for several years because the orator used in the past have never been original.

The names of the five entrants who will be here Friday night are as follows: Leroy Brown, Shelbyville, Shelby county; Miss Adeline Class, Wilkinson, Hancock county; Walter Richardson, College Corner, Ohio, Union county; Vernal Casady from this county; Robert Lyon, Richmond, Wayne county.

Brookville, county seat of Franklin county, may also have an entrant in the district preliminary. The Brookville high school will hold its commencement Friday and for this reason it was feared they could not send a representative, but according to word just received it is possible they will send one anyway.

R. R. Fendley of Greenwood, W. H. Stout of Indianapolis and J. S. Hoffman of Indianapolis, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, will act as judges.

Experiments in cotton in southern Spain have been so successful that it may become one of the country's most important crops.

Twenty great factories work up the whole of the tobacco manufactured in France and the right to retail is jealously guarded by the state.

Nothing Too Good For Her. Mrs. Newlygilt—That's a pretty good looking one. Show me that. The Piano Salesman—That's one of our finest instruments. I sold one just like it to Mrs. De Frazzle. Solid mahogany, seven and a half octaves. Mrs. Newlygilt—Seven and a half? Send me one with eight.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

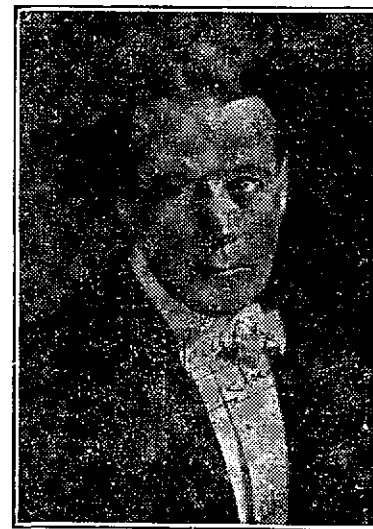

Something Comic. Brownbigge (to waitress who has handed him a newspaper)—Ain't yer got nothing comic? I likes to have something funny to look at while I'm a-beating. Waitress—There's a looking glass straight in front of you, sir.—London Tit-Bits.

London bankers' clearing house business in 1913 totaled $79,978,760,066.

BIG CROWD IS EXPECTED

Diapason Singers of Morristown Will Meet Sunday, May 23.

The Diapason singers of Morristown will hold their annual homecoming and old folks' singing there one week from Sunday. The exercises this year will be held in the Methodist church starting at two o'clock in the afternoon. The officers of the organization are Theopolis Hargrove, Greenfield, president; the Rev. Alonzo Meyers, Muncie, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Rock, Morristown, secretary and treasurer. The singers expect the meeting to be one of the best ever held. The leaders this year are C. C. Chester of Des Moines, Iowa, Theopolis Hargrove and Mr. Meyers.

A Chinese Superstition. When a Chinese baby takes a nap people think its soul is having a rest—going out for a long walk perhaps. If the nap is a very long one the mother is frightened. She is afraid that her baby's soul has wandered too far away and cannot find its way home. If it doesn't come back, of course the baby will never awaken. Sometimes men are sent out into the streets to call the baby's name over and over again, as though it were a real child lost. They hope to lead the soul back home. If a baby sleeps while it is being carried from one place to another the danger of losing the soul along the way is very great. So whoever carries the little one keeps saying its name out loud, so that the soul will not stray away. They think of the soul as a bird hopping along after them.

Clever Elephant. "Elephants are clever animals," said a trainer, "and I once had one that could read. He was a quarrelsome beast, and one day he got into a scrape with the Bengal tiger, and before we could get them separated he had his trunk badly damaged. After the scrimmage was over the elephant broke loose and started down the street fast. 'He's going wild!' somebody shouted. 'Don't you believe it,' says I. Now, where do you suppose that elephant went to?" "Went to the surgeon's, I suppose. Can't you get up a better yarn?" "No, he didn't go to the surgeon's. He went straight to a little shop where a sign read, 'Trunks repaired while you wait.' Of course he had made a mistake. But what do you expect of a poor dumb brute?"—London Globe.

Tale of Two Dogs. Sir John Sebright, a prominent society man of the early nineteenth century, owned a remarkable dog. In "Coke of Norfolk" Mrs. A. M. W. Stirling relates that "Sir John Sebright often brought a favorite dog to Holkham, who was remarkably clever at learning tricks. Lord Erskine also possessed a dog which he declared the cleverer of the two. A wager was laid as to which animal in the course of a twelvemonth could be taught the most extraordinary trick. The trial took place at Holkham at the end of a year. Erskine's dog cleverly took a roast oyster out of the fire without injuring himself, but Sir John's dog actually carried a glass of wine without spilling a drop to any gentleman in the room pointed out to him."

South Dakota now produces beets with a sugar content of more than 25 per cent.

PROHIBITION ARE NOT ENTHUSIASTIC

Do Not Look Very Favorably Upon
Proposed Constitutional Convention for Their Cause.

WILL VOTE FOR IT HOWEVER

Party Will Meet in State Convention
in Indianapolis June 2 and 3—
Clash in Ranks

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, May 14.—That the Prohibition party will look with no enthusiasm upon the constitutional convention possibility when it meets in state convention here June 2 and 3 is the belief of many of the leaders in that party. Individuals in the party will probably vote for the constitutional convention but their vote will not "be cast thus because of any belief that the convention will advance the prohibition cause towards its goal of state-wide prohibition. They will vote for the convention because they believe it may succeed in giving them the initiative and referendum and woman suffrage.

In fact, as Edward W. Clark views it in the Patriot Phalanx, the Prohibition organ in Indiana, "the odds are very greatly against a constitutional convention in Indiana."

In this statement from Clark many profess to see another out-cropping of the old rivalry between the Anti-Saloon League and the Prohibition party. The Anti-Saloon league favors the constitutional convention asserting that it will bring statewide prohibition. The Prohibition party looks with disfavor on the convention asserting the only way to get state wide prohibition is through the Prohibition party.

The Prohibitionists go further. They say that any vote for the constitutional convention will not indicate a sentiment for prohibition. "As Clark put it today, "The only way to go on record as favoring prohibition is to vote for the Prohibition ticket." It remains to be seen whether this uncompromising stand will hurt the chances for the constitutional convention. Many say it will not—that the Prohibition vote in this state is really negligible—while others here say this apparent split in temperance ranks will do some damage.

Hitting at the constitutional convention idea, Clark says that "the law under which the vote will be taken was framed and introduced by Senator Stetson, a close friend of the Brewer Fleming." And further that the "law was enacted by a soaking wet legislature dominated by Brewer Fleming, Brewer Fairbanks and Tom Taggart." He says the cards have been stacked and that "the brewery bosses are no doubt enjoying a silent chuckle as they watch some of the honest temperance friends playing the game."

Clark adds that the constitutional convention method is expensive and uncertain and that the way to get statewide prohibition is to insist on a mere legislative enactment. He says, however, that because of this chance the convention offers to obtain suffrage for women and the initiative and referendum he favors it, personally. He does not explain wherein there is a better chance for suffrage and the I and R than for prohibition.

E. S. Shumaker secretary of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, which is opposed by Clark, pins his faith to the fact that the delegates to the convention would be non-partisan and very probably elected on the liquor issue as the principal one. He says that the first step is to get the convention, and that then will be time enough to fight for the delegates.

Meanwhile the brewers are "sitting by" apparently enjoying with the "silent chuckle" mentioned by Clark the little clash within the temperance ranks.

Mediation as a Principle

All of the parties in the present Mexican crisis are agreed that mediation in theory is an admirable thing. The United States, Huerta and Carranza accepted the principles of mediation promptly when the diplomats of Brazil, Argentina and Chili offered their good offices to settle the Mexican muddle. But when it came to the appointment of representatives and an agreement as to conduct pending deliberations of the mediators and the representatives, insuperable obstacles began to loom. Carranza was willing for the United States and Huerta to proclaim an armistice, provided the United States retained control of the custom house at Vera Cruz, shutting off Huerta's resources. Meanwhile he wished to be free to push his army on to Mexico City. He was not willing to submit any of the general Mexican questions to mediation, feeling that things were going his way without it and that he would be greatly aided if the United States would restrict its efforts to punishing Huerta. But still he accepted mediation as a principle. He thought it a fine thing to use on Huerta but not on Carranza.

Huerta professed to accept the principle of mediation, named his representatives and agreed to an armistice. Mexican reports indicate that the latter agreement was not altogether sincere. Huerta is suspected of continuing his preparations for destruction of the railroad from Vera Cruz to Mexico City and with trying to shut off the water supply of Vera Cruz. Even our own State Department, first to accept the principle of mediation, was said to hesitate about naming representatives lest it constitute a virtual recognition of Huerta, looked upon by the administration as the unpardonable sin. All the parties seem agreed as to the beautiful principle of mediation.

Where Advertising Pays

(Anderson Herald.)

The value of advertising was learned long ago by merchants. They found it was worth while because it got results. Facts could be presented on the printed page in a way that appealed to people. A man or woman, looking over the newspaper in the quiet of the home, was in a mood to respond to a well put suggestion. Good advertising, properly presented in the right sort of medium, would move people in large masses because it reached them at the psychological moment.

This lesson, as has been said, was learned long ago, by business men in sharp competition with each other. But the churches, not given to innovations, until recently ignored the possibilities of newspaper advertising.

Then it began to occur to business men connected with churches that they were overlooking an opportunity. The church was being crowded out of the lives of many men and women through sheer heedlessness. In cities in particular it was easy to neglect the services and in most cases there was nobody to do any reminding. So a year ago earnest men undertook to raise money to conduct advertising campaigns to urge churchgoing.

The result in the first cities that tried the plan were so encouraging that it spread to other cities. Today all over the country people are persuasively urged in display advertising on Saturday to go to church the next day. So great has the interest in these methods become that a book has recently been written on the subject of "Church Publicity: The Modern Way to Compel them to Come in," by the Rev. C. F. Reiser of New York, formerly of Kansas City.

A campaign to advertise churchgoing began in Kansas City recently. The advertising set forth reasonably and persuasively considerations why men and women should go to church. It called attention to the value of churches to the community the obligation to support them, the unconsciously retarding influence of the person who stays away from church.

This sort of advertising repeated week after week is bound to have a profound effect. It is going to produce results just as secular advertising produces results—only its results are to be counted in happier and finer lives, and more devoted citizenship.

Bloomington Not Quite Sure Whether
City has Hand in Water Works
or Not.

DIRECTORS ARE APPOINTED

City is as Far Away as Ever in Solving Water Question—Shortage
for Five Years

(By United Press.)

Bloomington, Ind., May 14.—Bloomington either does or does not own her water works, which neither the mayor, councilmen or lawyers are quite sure. By action of the city fathers, the present municipal plant, which is so poor that the city has been suffering for water for the past five years, was turned over to a holding company, together with all franchise rights. So far it seems like private ownership.

Out of the $200,000 capital stock of the company the city is to own $195,000 which the company is to deed back, together with a binding option, and provision that any sale must be approved by the council.

By this round-about way Bloomington is seeking to solve the most vexing of all of her problems, a year-round supply of pure water. —Last summer the city suffered severely from a drought of five weeks during which water was sold on the streets as high as $5 a barrel. Relief only came with heavy rains, and yet the county was within a half-inch of its normal rainfall. Such are the conditions that led to the creation of the novel municipally owned holding company.

Twelve leading citizens were officially appointed directors of the company for the year. The mayor named two, and each member of the council picked two.

According to those on the inside, it is not certain that the city is any nearer the solution of the tangle than ever, for it is known that the council and mayor split three to three on the question of the site for the new plant, and it is believed that the new appointees are in the same predicament.

BRITISH HAVE NOT MUCH HOPE

Outlook for Winning Over America at Polo Next Month is not Very Bright.

GLOOM THERE VERY THICK

Detroit Tigers are Real Example of Come-back Stuff Being Surprise of Season

BY HAL SHERIDAN

(Written for United Press.)
New York, May, 14.—Britishers claim to be without cheer or hope over their chances of turning the tables on America in the International Polo Cup series next month at Meadowbrook. Reason for the chunks of gloom which can be cut with a knife wherever English poloists met to discuss the outlook is that Captain Lockett will not be at No. 3 position when the fracas opens.

It was the dashing, slashing defense and attack of Lockett who met every American, catapulting attack with the same sort of goods, that stopped the Big Four temporarily on several occasions last year, and made them begin all over again. It was Lockett's work more than the work of any two men on the English team which kept the American score down and the English tally up.

To replace Lockett the invaders will either have Lord Wodehouse or Lord Wimborne. Both are great players, but neither can class with Lockett. Neither can hope to stop the Waterbury boys anywhere near as effectively as even Lockett did, unless they have improved eighty per cent—and the English enthusiasts don't think either has grown that much.

The American Four looks very good. There will be, undoubtedly the three veterans Larry and Monte Waterbury, and Devereux Milburn, galloping about the green and swatting tar out of the ball when the whistle blows. For the fourth position there are Malcolm Stevenson, Phipps, Rene Montague and one or two others, who are less prominently known. Stevenson has "sat in" before and is far from being a slouch at the gladsome game. Phipps and Montague have been playing like Sahara typhoons at practice games this spring and either should show up the stuff if called on to pull a George Washington and repel the Redcoats.

It's true that few even pull the come-back stuff with any degree of noise, but Eo-yah Hughie Jennings at the start of this year's race did that thing. With the same pep and gingerine that he showed when he copped the American League flag he has been going like an oil saturated house afire. As a contemporary aptly put in Hughie's singeing flash may be awful hard on the grass sprouts around first base but it's mighty fine for the National Pastime.

Prophecies that were made for young Ray Caldwell when the Yanks were being mauled, torn, mutilated and effaced by every team in the American League last year, are this year being fulfilled.

With Peerless Leader Chance now coming into his own as an organizer and driver of ball players, Caldwell is being given the sort of support that puts ambition and love of gore in the heart of a young pitcher with the stuff.

Of course, Caldwell had the stuff all the time, but he hadn't much incentive to squeeze it out last year. With the Highlanders fighting like cornered mountain lions to the last announcement by the umpire, Caldwell should this year pile up behind himself a whale of a record. He has certainly started right: In his first two games—against Athletics and Red Sox—all that those teams could get off him were three safe slams each and no sign of a run.

Turning back to that Detroit rush, there is offered in the situation a mighty good answer to these pessimists and calamity shriekers who have been insisting that because of the big play of the Federals this year, those major league teams which are up against Federal opposition would "be allowed" to go out in front to keep the patronage.

In the American League, Detroit for a long time showed all the class. There was no Federal opposition in Detroit. In Pittsburgh, despite the fact that the Fed team was being banged around like a top red headed step child by every other team in the Fed League, the Pirates, led by Fred Clarke were galloping away with lots of daylight between them and their nearest competitors the last time we slanted the club standings.

If the pessimists were right and the magnates really wanted to do a little "fixing" they certainly could have a far better job of it than they have so far.

The Pacific Coast bids fair to keep its place at the head of the column as the producer of high jumpers. After giving us Horine whose jumping record of 6 feet 7 inches looked to be good for many years, the Coast came right back a few weeks ago and showed Eddie Beeson in the Pacific Coast Conference meet. Beeson beat Horine's jump by 5/8 of an inch, which is considerable distance when it's piled on top of 6 feet 7 inches, especially if the man who tries to get over it doesn't use a balloon or an aeroplane.

SPECIALS ARE COMING TO WIN

Expect to Repeat Feat of Last Year When Rushville Was Defeated—Patterson to Pitch.

GETS NEW FIRST BASEMAN

Manager Fisher Believes Arcadians

Will Travel With Best From This Time on.

The Arcadians face a hard game Sunday in the Indianapolis Specials. The Specials defeated Rushville once last year and are out to repeat. Manager Johnson of the Specials has sent word here that his team is coming to win and the fans expect a real battle.

Patterson, formerly of the DePauw University team and Minneapolis Northern league team will be on the mound for Rushville. Patterson is in condition and the fans will have the first chance to see him work. He is a hard worker and should make a valuable man for the Arcadians. The Specials will use either Hollingsworth or Whaley. Hollingsworth is just back from a league and if he pitches the Rushville team may have trouble with the Specials.

With the team going like it did last Sunday the Specials will know they have been in a battle. Manager Fisher has a line on two first basemen and the one that looks the best will be retained to take Bridgeman's place until his school is out. One of these men is Kinch, who played three or four games with the Arcadians last year. His home is in Hamilton. Kinch is left handed and is confident that he can fill Bridgeman's place. Fisher is also after an outfielder. Wilson of Newcastle, who played the outfield for the Hoosiers last year wants to come here and may be given a chance.

One week from Sunday the Arcadians will play at Connersville. The fans are looking forward to this series of games as the two teams always play their best game against each other. The game Sunday should attract a large crowd as the Specials are not unknown here. They played a 4 to 3 game against the A. B. C. team this season and are booked with the best team in Indiana. The Specials will line up, Lambert, right field; Krait, second base; Lentz, third; Burk left field; Doremus, first; Mitchell, catch; Layton, short stop; Reed, center field; Hollingsworth or Whaley, pitch. There will be no changes in the Rushville line up outside of first base and Kinch will more than likely start the game there. Poston of Gwynneville, who has given perfect satisfaction in the last two games, will umpire.

city and county for the visitors. W. T. Johnston, president of the trade extension department of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, made some facietions remarks concerning the trip of the boosters and complimented Rushville people on the sincere and unfeigned welcome which had been extended to the crowd of which he was at the head.

"I have found already," he continued, "that you people think lots of Rushville and I have observed that you have a just right in taking pride in your city. Soon after I got off the train a boy stopped me and asked me to buy a map. I asked him the price and he said a dollar. 'Why, my boy,' I replied, 'I can get a map of the whole world for fifty cents.' 'Yes,' answered the boy, 'but it wouldn't have Rushville on it.'"

Later, in introducing a speaker, President Johnston said some member of the Rushville committee had approached him about the Rushville fair. He said the Rushville man had confided in him that they were having quite a controversy whether it should be moved from the present grounds to a place near the city. Mr. Johnston said he studied the question thoroughly and then told the Rushville man that, from all observations, he believed the best place to hold the Rushville fair would be around the neck or the waist.

George Puella, assistant internal revenue at the port of Cincinnati and in charge of the United States sub-treasury at Cincinnati, commented on the cordial greeting here. He told the story of the merchant who announced from a big sign that on a certain date all goods would be sold at cost. His neighbor two doors away, thinking to outdo his competitor, said on a sign that he would sell all goods below cost on the same day. The man operating the store between the two, when he saw the two signs, in front of his place set up a sign which read, "Main Entrance." This, he said, expressed his sentiments in regard to Rushville.

Marcus Fecheimer boasted the University of Cincinnati. He said he did not want the impression abroad that Cincinnati existed for business only, but that it had many institutions of worth. He spoke of the zoological garden and other attractions of the "Queen City."

The universal comment of the boosters was that they were greeted by the largest crowd and the best and most cordial welcome here that they had had during the whole trip. "We could notice the change in sentiment just as soon as we got over the border into Indiana," said Frank R. Schneider, one of the boosters. "There is something to this Hoosier hospitality. The receptions we received in Ohio cities were nothing compared to those given us in Indiana."

About two dozen took advantage of the hospitality of the I. & C. in offering the use of a special car from Connersville here so the Cincinnati men could see the sort of service would be given when the extension goes through.

Belts and sashes play even a more important part this season than last in the world of dress. For morning wear there are girdles and belts of suede and patent leather; for the thin afternoon frock silk and satin sashes and girdles are favored. Roman striped and plaid ribbons are used considerably for these purposes and also the plainer silks and satins; often one sees a strap or button of patent leather on a satin girdle and the effect is decidedly chic.

Plain wash dresses for summertime wear may be brightened up wonderfully by a judiciously chosen sash or girdle; one really can not have too many of them.

The white eponge dress illustrated in No. 7997 has a sheer little chemi-sette of organdy and a girdle of black satin finished with an unusual knot. This dress requires, for size 36, 5 yards of 36-inch material, with 2 1/2 yards of net or lace for the guimpe.

In No. 8104 we have again the sheer chemisette and an attractive sash; the material is biscuit-color ratine, the shaped flounces on the skirt being bound with a narrow edge of black to correspond with the sash, which is of black satin. To copy this design in size 36, requires 5 1/2 yards of 36-inch material, with 1 1/2 yards for the chemisette. Ratine and eponge are priced from 75 cents a yard and up.

No. 7997—sizes 34 to 44.
No. 8104—sizes 32 to 42.
Each pattern 15 cents.

To obtain either pattern illustrated fill out this coupon and enclose 15 cents in stamps or coin. Be sure to state number of pattern and size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust. Address Pattern Department, care of this paper.

CHICAGO PAID TRIBUTE TO HERO

Elaborate Services Marked Ceremonies Over Body of Blue-Jacket Killed in Mexico.

LAY IN STATE AT CITY HALL

Program Carried Out at Synagogue and High Officials Participated—Monument by Subscription.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., May 14.—Elaborate services today marked the tribute of Chicago to her hero and contribution to the nineteen boys who fell at Vera Cruz—Samuel Meisenberg Marten. Accompanied by a military guard of honor, the body arrived in Chicago yesterday morning from New York, where services had been conducted with all the military pomp of the United States government on Monday.

For three hours yesterday, the casket, bearing the body of Meisenberg lay in state at the City Hall, where it was viewed by thousands. In the afternoon, the flag draped casket was removed to the home of Sammy's mother, that his parents and brother and sister and other relatives might be alone with their dead. When arrangements were being made for the public ceremonies, Sammy's mother wrote the committee in charge:

"I must have my boy, Sammele, alone for just two hours. I want to say Kadish over his body. Then the public may have him. But he must be alone with me first."

The committee readily acceded to her request. From an undertaker's chapel at Twelfth and Lawdale streets, the following procession formed this morning, and marched to the Anshe Kanassas Israel Synagogue where the funeral services were conducted. The order of the procession was as follows:

Motorcycle squad of park police; mounted park police; mounted city police; city police on foot; Captain Robert Y. Rhea, grand marshal; Military band; Bluejackets; Marines.

Military organizations, Cavalry and Infantry. Hearse.

Honorary pallbearers at side; Active pallbearers behind; Family; Clergymen; Veterans; Federal representatives; State representatives; Committee of Senate; House of Representatives committee; County officials; City representatives; City police; Marks Nathan Jewish Orphan Home Band; Funeral committee; Uninformed organizations; Fraternal organizations; Independent Order Western Star, Order British Abraham, Ind; Order British-Abraham Knights of Joseph; Progressive order of the West; Representatives of congregations.

More than 3,000 persons were in line of march, which was witnessed by many times that number of persons. Three carriages were required to carry the floral tributes.

The ceremonies today were solemnly impressive. The United States government, the state of Illinois, and the City of Chicago, with a common purpose, united with the local Jewish organizations in paying tribute to one who had given his young life—all that he was and all that he hoped to be—to his country. It was a silent throng that stood with heads uncovered and watched the procession move to and from the Jewish synagogue.

Prominent among those who represented the government were Governor Edward F. Dunn, Mayor Carter H. Harrison, Senator J. Hamilton Lewis and Judge Julian W. Mack.

The program observed at the synagogue was as follows:

Introduction of chairman—Mr. Salk, President Congregation.

Opening remarks—Name of chairman to be announced.

Psalm, Chapter 44—Cantor Milkowsky and choir.

Sermon—Rabbi E. Epstein.

Address—Carter H. Harrison.

Address—Governor E. F. Dunn.

Psalm—Chap. 9, Cantor Milkowsky and choir.

Address—Congressman Sabath.

Requiem services for all soldiers who fell at Vera Cruz, Cantor Milkowsky and choir.

Eulogy—Judge Julian W. Mack.

Prayer for Dead—Rabbi Vezin.

Funeral oration—Senator J. Hamilton Lewis.

Requiem service for Samuel Meisenberg. Rabbi Kalman Klenovitz.

When the last hymn had died away, the procession reformed and marched to the Waldheim cemetery, where military services were held after the following program:

Eulogy—Rabbi Saul Silber of Congregation Ohave Sholem.

Address—Nathan T. Brenner, Grand Master I. W. S. O.

Eulogy—Rabbi A. A. Goldenson of Congregation Shaare Tfilch Bnei Ruben.

Address—Representative State Militia.

Address—Representative Naval Department.

Oration—Rabbi Joseph Stolz.

Prayer—"Zideck Hadin."

Prayer, "Zideck Hadin"—Cantor Reichlin and choir Congregation Tifereth Zion.

Benediction.

A plot of ground 200 feet square marked the last resting place of the dead blue-jacket. Plans for a monument, to be paid for by public subscription, are already under way.

NEEDLEWORK

By MARGARET LAWRENCE

A DECORATIVE EYELET DESIGN APPLIED TO CHEMISE AND DRAWERS

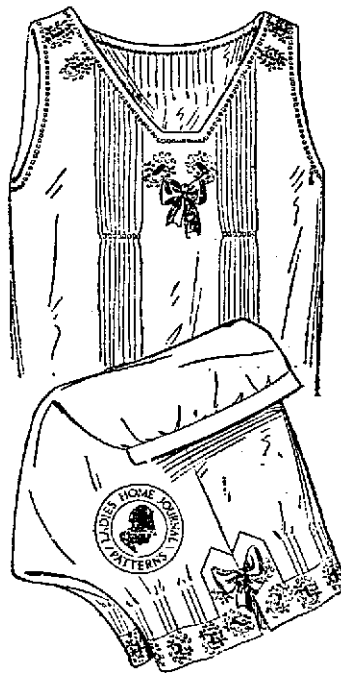

Even the most inexperienced can easily make charming underwear at home, now that the style requires no fitting to the garments.

Hand embroidery is quite the most satisfactory trimming for underwear, as it wears much better than lace and even often outwears the material of the gown itself. Batiste, nainsook and fine long cloth are the standard materials for making these garments, but of late, cross-barred muslin, cotton crepon, dotted swiss and China silk are being used, and even crêpe de Chine is often made into most practical wearing apparel.

This attractive eyelet design, illustrated on the chemise and the drawers, is from pattern number 14514. It is two and one-quarter inches wide and the pattern contains three yards for ten cents. The flowers and leaves in this design may be embroidered in solid work and eyelets with white mercerized cotton or filo silk. A one-inch wide ribbon should be run through the eyelets.

This design of wreaths and eyelets may also be used on nightgowns, negligees, children's clothes and infant's garments. If the eyelets are omitted, the wreaths may be used on waists, dresses and children's clothes.

An attractive chemise may be made from pattern 8108 which is cut in four sizes; thirty-two, thirty-six, forty and forty-four. The drawers, illustrated here, are from pattern number 8111. These are cut in five sizes; twenty-two, twenty-four, twenty-six, twenty-eight, and thirty. Each of these patterns is ten cents. The seams on these garments should be French seamed and the finishings should be well done so that they will not come apart in the laundry. Guaranteed hot-iron transfer pattern will be supplied to readers upon receipt of price.

TORTURED BY STOMACH ILLS, HE FINDS MAYR REMEDY IN TIME

Frankfort Man Ends His Troubles With First Dose of Treatment.

Walter Spray of 1011 South Second street, Frankfort, Ind., for a long time suffered from disorders of the stomach which caused him great pain.

After long and tedious efforts to find relief he at last tried Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. The results, pleasing and beneficial, came right away. In telling of his experience he wrote:

"I took your treatment and will truly say that it did me more good than all the doctors did for me for months. Before I took your medicine I suffered a great deal, but since I took the first dose I have not had a bad spell. I feel that it is even more than you claim."

Letters like that come from all parts of the country. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is known everywhere because of its true merit. The first dose proves—no long treatment.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucus, acid secretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Go to Frank E. Wolcott's drug store and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whitcomb Street, Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have restored. And druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.

FOR CHRONIC COUGHS

Milton, Pa., Woman Has Found a Remedy.

Mrs. Howard Wagner of Milton, Pa., says: "I had a bad cold for months, and would cough every night until midnight. I consulted a doctor and took two kinds of medicine but got no relief. Vinol was recommended and after taking it a week I could sleep all night without coughing once. I continued its use and now have a fine appetite, never felt better and my cough is entirely gone."

It is a well known fact that when a person is run-down, stomach out of order, or the system overloaded with waste matter, vital resistance is lowered and colds and coughs are easily contracted.

The safest and surest method we know to overcome this condition is by taking our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. In the most natural manner Vinol tones up the digestive organs, promotes a hearty appetite, enriches the blood, and as a specific for chronic coughs, colds and bronchial troubles Vinol is unexcelled.

Try a bottle of Vinol on our offer to return your money if it fails to help you. F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists, Rushville, Indiana.

and trainers have gone elsewhere.

Members of the committeesaid that Rush county ranks with Chicago, Lexington, and New York as the logical horse center of the United States, because this county has raised many of the fastest horses ever on a track and has a wide reputation for this industry.

Fast horse training was at one time the chief industry of the county. Relation to the fast horse business could be traced to at least half of the residents of the city. But the business has decreased and it is the purpose of the new industries committee to rejuvenate it. There have been many great races held on the Riverside park track and one world's record was established there.

The city would be benefited in many ways by the acquisition of several stables of fast horses. The merchants would reap the first benefit, but the benefit would accrue to all because it would bring much more money into the community. One fast horse trainer here now pays a thousand dollars every month for help and in blacksmith and harness bills. It is pointed that Rush county should have five or six times as many fast horses here.

The committee also devised ways and means to bring a canning factory here. The committee believes that this is a good county for such an industry. It is pointed out that tomatoes, peas and other products of the county could be furnished and that farmers and truck patch gardeners could reap a rich revenue.

The announcement of the committee some time ago of its intention to try to bring some greenhouses here has brought forth the announcement to the Chamber of Commerce that Glen Moore will extend his plant soon. He already has much business out of the city, he reported to the committee. Fleener and Windler also are going to enlarge their plants. Frank Windler of this firm reported that he needed the road to the cemetery opened.

part of the garment itself—will not pull or rip off—never needs resewing. Far easier handled than pins and buttons and eliminates all danger of blood poisoning. Fastenings are in front so baby can be dressed without turning. One clever fastening prevents Vanta Vests from working up around the waist.

Vanta Vests are made double breasted—fitted close around the neck—are finely finished in a variety of materials in sizes for babies of all ages. Come to the Infant's Department and see them for your baby's sake.

MELLEN'S MONEY WENT TO AID T.R.

Charles S. Mellen, Former Head of
New Haven, Will Tell How
Officials Were Bribed.

PART OF RAILROAD PROGRAM

Declares he Was Placed at Head of System by the Late J. P. Morgan—On Stand Today.

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 14.—Charles S. Mellen, president of the New Haven system for ten years, took the stand today before the interstate commerce commission prepared to disclose the secrets of that railroad's high finance.

He testified over the direct protest of the attorney general who declared that his testimony carried immunity from criminal prosecution. The commission insists through Counsel Folk that with Mellen's story as a base, proceedings can be instituted to force restitution to the innocent stockholders.

Mellen publicly declared that he planned to reveal the whole plot whereby legislatures and city governments were purchased and entire railway systems manipulated for the benefit of Wall Street men.

Mellen laid the groundwork today. Standing out in his story was the statement that he was representative for the late J. P. Morgan. He said he was put at the head of the New Haven by Morgan.

Mellen balked when asked whether New York City officials were bribed, but practically admitted this later.

Bald Jack Rose Closes Breach in His
Story Made by Defense.

(By United Press.)

New York, May 14.—Bald Jack Rose today ended his testimony as star witness for the state in the trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, charged with plotting the murder of Gambler Rosenthal. Spurred on by District Attorney Whitman, every breach in history opened by the cross-examination of the defense yesterday was closed. Sharp tilts between the attorneys came when Manton, for the defense, grew angry. He accused Whitman of coaching his witness over night. He was reprimanded by the court.

H. H. Elwood and son Charles of Raleigh were the guest of friends in this city today.
